

Student-Assistant in research project

The Chair of Political Science with focus on European Integration and International Relation is looking for a student-assistant (with or without a BA-degree) interested in and willing to support us in our international and EU-funded research project UNTWIST.

About the UNTWIST-project:

UNTWIST investigates the question of whether extreme populist parties use and fill a gap in the political spectrum that has emerged in the recent past: Do these parties actually have the potential to represent the population that has been let down by current mainstream feminist discourses? Or have mainstream parties not yet found a suitable strategy for responding to gender-related conflicts? Against the background of these questions, new political strategies are to be developed and implemented in order to counteract the anti-gender politics of parties on the extreme (and especially right-wing) fringe.

What benefit are we offering you as a student-assistant:

- interesting insights into the project
- research related activities in the field of politics and gender
- training in data management and analysis
- the possibility of actively participating in a renowned project with impact on your future
- 10 hours work per week, starting 15.04.2025.

If you ...

- are a registered student at the Uds
- have very good knowledge of the English language, both written and spoken
- have very good knowledge of German and/or Italian and/or other European languages
- have good knowledge of R and/or Python
- have good knowledge of data management and statistical analysis
